Professor Henry Andrews Bumstead,
Department of Physics,
Yale University.

Dear Professor Bumstead:

I am glad to be able to inform you that at a meeting of the Senate of the University of Toronto held last night it was unanimously agreed to offer you the honorary degree of Doctor of Science in recognition of your great attainments in Physics and especially of the great service you rendered to the Allied Cause during the war.

The degree is now conferred in Absence, and our Commencement is held on the evening of Thursday, June 3rd, when I hope you will be able to be present. If you can come the University will be glad to arrange for your entertainment. The University provides the gown, but those who are to receive degrees are expected to bring their gowns.

With kind regards, I am,
Yours sincerely,

President.

Professor H. A. Hunstead,
Yale University,
New Haven, Conn.

Dear Professor Hunstead:

The train that would suit you best for Toronto will be that leaving New York I think about six or even eight, both of which arrive here before noon. You will not be required to be on hand until the evening. I am very glad to know that you are able to come. We will reserve a room for you at the Hart House.

Yours sincerely,

President.
